Development offers for existing customers

Winter 2024 - 2025

Development offers for existing customers

Whilst December is most frequently about planning, January and February are the busiest times to begin the development of people and teams for the year ahead. Bookings surge and dates fill up into the rest of the year to deliver the programmes that are organised.

Our winter offers have been created to assist you in delivering the results you're looking for in 2025. You must be an existing customer to take advantage* and you must have completed your purchase no later than Friday, 28 February 2025. All other terms and conditions apply.

This season we're helping you to deliver blended development solutions and ensure that your budget achieves its maximum potential by helping with the implementation of skills. We're also adding extra value into larger requirements.

Being organised for the year ahead pays.

Call your L&D Partner on their DDI or on 0800 619 1230 for further information or to book.

* An existing customer is an organisation that has paid to use any of our services between 1 January 2014 and 30 November 2024

25% off all implementation products

Ensuring that the skills that are learned and the individual commitments that are made come back into the workplace is a critical part of your investment. There are many ways in which we support our customers with implementation. An important consideration to any programme.

- From £1,295
- 25% discounted at point of invoice
- No purchase limit within period
- Use to maximise the results of your Impellus training
- Must be delivered on or before 18 December 2025
